The Expanded Public Works Programme (EPWP) branch today gathered at its Office in Pretoria to warmly welcome the newly appointed Acting Deputy Director-General (ADDG), Mr Molatelo Mohwasa.

The meeting reflected a strong spirit of teamwork and collaboration, with Chief Directors actively engaging the new ADDG and sharing insights on their respective portfolios.

Mr. Mohwasa brings extensive experience within the Department of Public Works and Infrastructure (DPWI), having served in various capacities, including as Manager at the Pretoria Regional Office and most recently as Chief Director for the Project Management Office (PMO).

In his remarks, outgoing ADDG Mr. Molate Moremi highlighted key issues requiring urgent attention, such as the filling of critical vacancies across EPWP sectors.

Expressing gratitude to the team for their input, Mr. Mohwasa said: "I would like to thank you, colleagues, for the comprehensive reports you have submitted. I assure you that all the issues raised will be addressed."

Looking ahead, Mr. Mohwasa also proposed the introduction of EPWP Women Programmes as part of the unit's designated initiatives—an idea welcomed as a progressive step toward greater inclusivity
